What type of insurance is it?

Liability insurance is intended for business entities domiciled in the Slovak Republic or the Czech Republic (including entities that represent their interest abroad), the purpose of which is to provide insurance prevention for damages caused by them to the health and life of a third party, as a result of their activities. The scope of insurance is based on individual needs of a specific customer but within insurance risk, which the insurer is willing to accept. Liability insurance does not cover all business risks that relate to entrepreneur's liability insurance.

What are my responsibilities?

- immediately notify the insurer in writing of any change in the facts that were the basis (questionnaires, written and e-mail communication, including annexes) for taking out the insurance policy and any change in the facts that the insured stated to the insurer when arranging insurance, if they could increase the risk;
- pay the premiums agreed in the insurance policy, while the policyholder and/or the insured is not entitled to set off the payment of the premium with the right to indemnity without the consent of the insurer;
- observe insurer's instructions and act in such a way that the loss event does not occur and at the same time must avoid violating the obligations to avert or reduce the risk of damage caused by the insurance policy and generally binding legal regulations, and tolerating breach of these obligations by third parties,
- the insured may not, without the consent of the insurer, acknowledge any liability or accept liability for any damage, conclude a court settlement or voluntarily provide any compensation for "damage", except expenses necessary to prevent the increase or decrease of any damage or expenses necessary to prevent imminent damages;
- immediately notify the insurer of an event with which the insured's liability for damage is or could be associated and which could in the future stipulate the insurer's obligation to provide insurance benefits

When and how do I pay?

- The date and method of payment of insurance premiums or premium instalments are specified in the insurance policy.
- Unless otherwise agreed in the insurance policy, the premium is payable on the first day of the insurance period.

When does the cover start and end?

The insurance will start on the first day after the insurance policy is taken out, unless it has been agreed by the contracting parties that the insurance will start from the conclusion of the insurance policy or a later date of insurance has been determined.

The insurance terminates:

- upon expiry of the agreed period specified in the insurance policy;
- if the premium for the first insurance period or the one-off premium has not been paid within three months from the date of its maturity, the insurance expires at the end of this period;
- if the premium for the next insurance period has not been paid within one month from the date of delivery of the insurer's request for payment, unless the premium was paid before the delivery of this request. The insurer's request must contain a notice that the insurance will expire in the event of non-payment, while the same applies if only part of the premium has been paid;
- revocation of business license, dissolution of the insured.
